

Dear Mum and Dad,

Hi, how are you? Well here I am in the big city. Although the weather is nice at the moment the forecast is for hail, but that should soon clear. I bought a new coat because they say it gets really cold. I have to stay at auntie Deb's house for now, but I'm hoping to get a flat soon. The trip up was great, even though it took about ten hours. Well I must go, you know how rarely I write, but I'll try to do better this year.

Love Blair
